-- see also MULLER for J, Schulman as expert

* the sale numbers are assigned according to the firm's historical list; the catalogues are overtly numbered only from no. 226

* the firm's historical list of catalogues issued stated that catalogues nos 1 through 14 were not in its own library. These catalogues appear not to exist. It has been suggested that they represent the auctions of Frederik Muller, Amsterdam, in which Schulman acted as expert and perhaps provided the numismatic material. [Arent Pol]

as SPINK in association with CHRISTIES

* with this association the catalogue numbering becomes chaotic:

(1) Spink had intended to continue its coin series beyond number 98; Christies imposed a new computer-based number of 10xx, producing for the numismatic auctions first

[a] 1099 and 1100; then

[b] reverting overtly to 101, etc. -- see (3) below.

After 103 the London coin auctions (as against banknotes, orders, etc.[but see 2b]) continued to bear an overt 3-digit number, 1xx, on the spine. This did not apply to the non-London coin sales.

(2) Non-coin numismatic catalogues (banknotes, orders)

[a] were first given a pure Christies number (5074, 23 Sep 1993); then

[b] varied between the 1xx and the computer 11xx sequences; and finally

[c] were restricted to the computer 11xx series, not stated on the cover, irregularly on the spine, usually on the title page.

(3) However, all catalogues were controlled internally to Spink by the single computer sequence 11xx -- invisible in those coin catalogues which overtly fell only into the 1xx sequence, which accounts for the apparent gaps in the 11xx sequence.

(4) Some catalogues bore the computer sequence number on (and only on) the Prices Realized lists, e.g. -- no 129, so numbered on cover, spine, title page ('Code Name "KARON" 129') and order form; but numbered 1195 on the Prices Realized list.

-- so that in these cases the computer sequence number cannot be retrieved from the catalogue proper. Subsequently both numbers were printed overtly, e.g. no 139 which reads thus on the cover, but as no 1236 on spine and title page.

(5) Beginning in 1994 catalogues generated in the London office for Glasgow, Singapore-and-Hong Kong, and Australia, bear the four-digit computer numbers, in single sequence with the London four-digit computer number (112 on cover of 28 Nov 1995 [Hong Kong] is a printer's error for 1128).

- (6) Beginning in 1997 all Spink auction catalogues, of whatever department (numismatic, oriental, philatelic), are numbered in a single computer sequence. The numbers are requested by the individual departments during preparation of the catalogues, and are sequenced in the order of the request, not according to either the department or the date of sale, which accounts for the great sequential irregularities below. For example,

no 132 [1199] 25 May 1999

no 133 [1233] 25 May 1999

no 134 [1203] 13 Jul 1999

- (7) A single catalogue can be labelled with more than one computer number, e.g. no 1138/1139, 3 Oct 1996. Joint stamp/coin auctions were given two, or even three computer numbers, e.g. no 1179/1189, 20 Jun 1998 [Singapore]; no 1210/1225/1228, 27 Mar 1999 [Australia].

Conversely, a single computer number can include more than one catalogue, e.g. no 1196 with three catalogues.

NB: Because the auction schedule is continuously in revision, the pre-publication announcements in Spink's Numismatic Circular of future auction contents, dates and catalogue numbers do not necessarily correspond with those of the final auction. So these preliminary announcements should not be used as a guide to the identification and seriation of the catalogues.

For example, Numismatic Circular for Feb, Apr and Jun 2001 announced a medal sale for 22 Nov 2001 (no 1287); in Aug it was announced as 10 Dec 2001 (nos 1287/1291); in Oct as 10 Dec 2001 (no 1291) -- which were the final date and numeration.

NB: The catalogue number(s) can appear on any or all of cover, spine, title page, order slip, and prices realized.

The full sequence of numismatic catalogues is given below BY DATE. Sales held in Edinburgh, Glasgow, Singapore, Hong Kong, and Australia are listed under those Spinks headings as well.
